

Traffic Toll Tops All Records

President Gives Message Tonight

453 Lose Lives On Holiday

Blame Alcohol For Bleak Total

By The Associated Press
The nation ended its three-day observance of the New Year at midnight Sunday, breaking all previous traffic death records for the holiday and surpassing the worst fears of traffic experts.

Highway accidents during the 78-hour period claimed 453 lives, passing the New Year's high mark set during a four-day holiday in 1955-56 when 409 persons died. The previous three-day record was 374 in 1959-60.

Before the holiday started, the National Safety Council estimated that between 300 and 360 persons might be killed in traffic. California, with 69 fatalities, recorded the highest number of deaths and broke its three-day New Year's record toll of 46, set in 1960.

A spokesman for the California Highway Patrol, Kent Milton, said he is "sure alcohol will be found to be a tremendous factor" in accounting for the bleak total.

For comparative purposes, The Associated Press counted traffic deaths during a non-holiday three-day weekend last month. The total then was 396. Last week, 578 deaths were counted during the three-day Christmas period.

California's toll far surpassed the next nearest state, Texas, with 45 fatalities. New York and Illinois followed with 24 each. Only eight states went through the holiday without a traffic death—Alaska, Delaware, Hawaii, North Dakota, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont and Wyoming.

The safety council said 1964 traffic deaths are expected to reach a record 48,000. The council plans to report the 12-month totals later this month.

May Unveil Budget, Tax Cut Secrets

Starts Day By Attending Church

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson worshipped with dignitaries of the nation today in the traditional early morning service of the opening day of Congress, then headed back to his desk for more polishing and pruning on tonight's State of the Union message.

He may take the wraps off some tax cut and budget secrets in the unusual nighttime address to the legislators.

Johnson and his vice president, Hubert H. Humphrey, arrived separately for the 8 a.m. service at the National Presbyterian church, but sat together and left together in the President's limousine.

Members of the House and Senate were among other dignitaries on hand. Several were among the ruling elders officiating in serving the Communion.

Johnson and Humphrey sat on the right side of the church in the third row from the front, in the pew once reserved for former President Dwight D. Eisenhower who regularly attended the church.

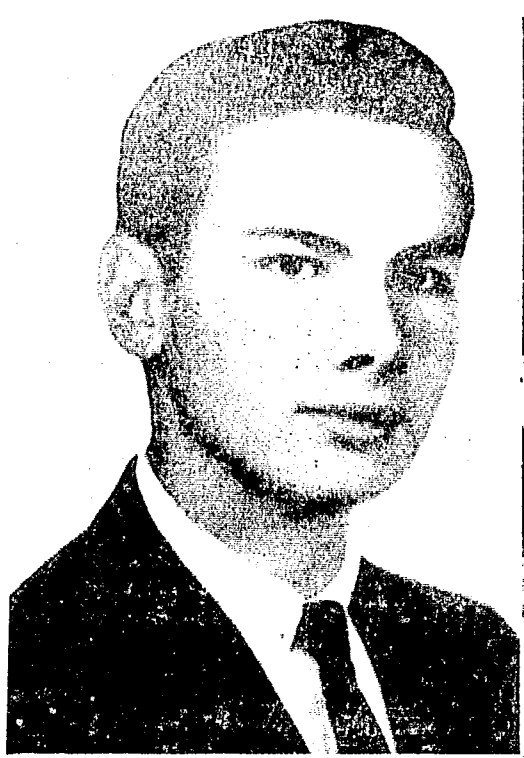

There were prayers for the nation, the President, Congress, for all in authority, and for peace.

The President was still putting finishing touches on his annual message, to be delivered personally at a joint session of the Senate and House at 9 p.m. EST. The speech, which the President hopes will set guide marks for the work of Congress in the busy year, will be broadcast live by television and radio networks.

Johnson was departing from tradition in making it an evening speech. Most presidents have addressed Congress during the noon hour but Johnson wanted to get maximum television and radio exposure in unveiling a preliminary blueprint of what he calls his "Great Society" program.

The chief executive will touch on major legislative proposals to be submitted in the weeks ahead. But he was not expected to go into detail on these, leaving that for special messages to be sent to Congress later.

If he follows last year's pattern, he also will disclose the broad outlines of the new federal budget to be submitted later in the month. For the second straight year he was expected to continue on Page Seven.

House GOP Picks Ford As Leader

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan was chosen to lead House Republicans in the 89th Congress today, unseating Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana.

Ford, 51, backed by younger members who wanted a "fresh, forceful image" for their party, defeated Halleck 73-67. Halleck, 64, had held the job for six years.

Ford gave up the post of chairman of the party conference in order to challenge Halleck for the leadership.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin won Ford's former job. In nominating Ford for floor leader, Rep. Elford A. Cederberg, R-Mich., said "millions of Republicans are awaiting our decision and hoping House Republicans will provide them with a fresh and forceful image."

Cederberg also predicted Ford's election would improve the prospects for Republican gains in Congress in 1966. The shattering defeat they suffered in last November's elections helped overturn Halleck.

Sen. Dirksen: Will Try To Cut Budget

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen says Republicans are "not insensible" to President Johnson's spending problems but will try to cut the budget judiciously in the new Congress.

Dirksen predicted in an interview that his party will give strong support for a reduction in excise taxes Johnson expects to propose.

On other matters, Dirksen: — Called for creation of task forces to give congressional Republicans expert and nonpolitical advice on critical foreign and domestic issues. He said this would be "infinitely better" than setting up a party advisory committee, as GOP governors have proposed.

— Said Johnson should sit down with GOP leaders to spell out his intentions in the South Vietnam war. He added that GOP members want to be heard before any major decision which they would have to support in the interests of unity.

— Said Barry Goldwater, the defeated GOP presidential nominee, is entitled to speak out on any subject he chooses "but that does not mean that we necessarily follow any view he expresses."

Here are some questions and answers:

Q. If the President does not keep his budget under $100 billion, will the Republicans try to cut it back or will they try to cut it back anyway?

A. There is something psychological about $100 billion, and I am not insensible to the President's problems in that field, particularly with the figures that have been disclosed that the request itself amounts to $100 billion. (Continued On Page Seven)

Rusk Gives Views On Viet Nam

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk has counseled against "reckless action" in Viet Nam and said he would not have the United States abandon the war or expand it.

Rusk also ruled out for the time being a political settlement of the struggle against the Viet Cong guerrillas — a drawn-out affair in which the United States has invested men, money and materials.

The South Vietnamese can turn back the Communist insurgents, President Johnson's chief foreign policy adviser maintained Sunday as he reviewed the war and the international scene generally in a year-end review on the NBC television network.

Rusk conceded he shares with many Americans "a sense of frustration that things are not somehow moving more rapidly toward a conclusion." But, he said, the situation calls for persistence and coolness, not "reckless action which would move us over thoughtlessly in either the direction of defeat or in the direction of a very great catastrophe."

Along the way, he said he does not favor expanding the struggle or having the United States pull out of it.

The first, he said, would subject Asians to devastation and lead down a trail "the end of which no one in any country could possibly see with assurance." The second, he said, would encourage Communist China to become more aggressive.

He dismissed a political settlement — a third alternative to present policy — as impossible because the Communists have refused to give up their aggressive designs.

Elsewhere the debate on Viet Nam continued as four senators urged a re-evaluation of the U.S. role in the Southeast Asian country and Japan's new prime minister, Eisaku Sato, said in a copyright interview in U.S. News & World Report that Viet Nam will be an important subject during his forthcoming talks with Johnson.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., advocated the re-evaluation in ABC's "Issues and Answers" and got agreement from Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., A.S. (Mike) Monroney, D-Neb., and Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb.

The United States, said Morse, should be fighting in Viet Nam "as part of the United Nations organization or as part of the SEATO organization, or as a part of the 14-nation Geneva conference organization, but not on a unilateral basis."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana predicted on NBC's "Meet the Press" that there will be a full-scale debate in the Senate on Viet Nam and said "I think it will be a good thing."

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., said on CBS' "Face the Nation" that members of Congress ought to hold up on taking a position on the war until they get the recommendations of the President.

Long said he suspects Johnson's view is that it is preferable to stay on in Viet Nam than to pull out because if the United States abandons the war "you are going to lose all of Southeast Asia."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois told The Associated Press in an interview that a decision on whether to pursue the war into North Viet Nam or to continue the current "unhappy status" is not easily answered "until there is a better evaluation of all the factors that you have to take into account."

55 Mexicans Killed As Church Roof Collapses

PUEBLA, Mexico (AP) — Fifty-five Mexicans were killed and 63 injured when the roof of a new Roman Catholic church collapsed Sunday at Rijo, 80 miles southwest of Puebla.

The concrete roof crashed during a Mass to dedicate the building. About 300 persons were inside.

Officials said a preliminary investigation indicated defective construction had caused the tragedy. The building was of brick and concrete.

Among those killed was the priest officiating at the Mass, Father Ezequiel Alvarez Ortega, whose brother designed and built the church. Police said the brother would be questioned.

"It happened so fast nobody had a chance to run," said Alfonso Escamilla, 15, one of the injured survivors.

"I heard a roaring noise and looked up and saw the center part of the roof coming down. I didn't have time to get out."

24 Killed On Illinois Highways

By The Associated Press
At least 24 persons were killed on Illinois roads and highways over the three-day New Year's holiday, a record number for a turn-of-the-year period.

The previous record for a three-day New Year's holiday was set in 1960-61 when 20 persons died.

This year's toll also exceeded the record New Year's four-day holiday of 1956-57, when 22 persons were killed.

The 78-hour holiday began at 6 p.m. Thursday and ended at midnight Sunday.

In deaths Sunday, Timothy G. Hirschinger, 27, Streator, died in a Peoria hospital of injuries suffered Saturday in an accident near Streator. A Streator man, Eugene Venegone, 44, died in the crash.

A 5-year-old boy from Melrose Park died Sunday near Vienna when he fell from his father's pickup truck and was crushed under the wheels. The victim was Gregory Oliver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Oliver.

A car-train collision north of Manteno Sunday took the lives of Wilbert Curl, 48, Manteno, and his wife, Gladys, 44.

Thomas Powers of Chicago and Hot Springs, Ark., died Sunday in Staunton Hospital of injuries suffered in a Thursday night accident in Madison County.

Saturday, a two-car crash near Lena killed Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Russell of Warren and Miss Eleanor Rowe, 21, Lena.

Others who died Saturday due to traffic accidents included: Dessie Ann Newberg, 23, in Moline when her car struck a tree and a house.

Chicago policeman Claude Tyrell, 34, whose car struck a guard rail.

Roy Krohe, 67, struck by a hit-run driver in Rushville. Ina Missavage, 70, Carlinville, a passenger in a car involved in a two-car crash.

Seven others died Friday and four were killed in New Year's Eve accidents.

Declares Being Rector's Wife 'A Lousy Job'

By COLIN FROST
LONDON (AP) — The wife of an Anglican clergyman says clerics should be celibate because being married to one is "a lousy job."

"I myself am happy basically, because I love my husband," Brenda Wolfe, 28, wrote in the church magazine Prism. "But I am afraid that it is often in spite of the church."

Mrs. Wolfe said when she married seven years ago, she had "high-minded visions of entering with my husband into the great work of converting the world."

"But here I am, surrounded by four children, tied to the house, expected to turn up at every cat hanging and feeling like a widow as my husband is always on duty."

Her husband is parish priest at Wigan, in Lancashire. "I resent also the double standard," Mrs. Wolfe continued. "A clergy wife is expected to 'run' the conventional things, turn up at church and every other connected social affair, whatever her domestic circumstances may be. One receives no encouragement for managing it, but plenty of blame when one does not."

In both branches of Congress, after the traditional swearing-in ceremonies, proposals for major changes in rules could touch off an explosion.

The key issue in the House was whether to curb the power of the Rules Committee to keep legislation from going to the floor for a vote. In the Senate it was whether to make it easier to choke off filibusters.

Also confronting the House was a challenge to the seating of the Mississippi delegation, four Democrats and one Republican. The Mississippi Freedom Democratic party contends their election was invalid, claiming Negroes were systematically excluded from voting.

Once these organization problems are disposed of and the Congress settles down to business, it will have a mass of legislation to grapple with.

High on the agenda are increased Social Security benefits and hospital insurance for the aged, excise tax cuts, an expanded antipoverty program, federal aid for education, and an economic development program for the 11-state Appalachian area.

In dealing with these and other measures ranging from immigration to presidential succession, the Democrats will (Continued On Page Seven)

Stratton Trial For Tax Evasion Begins Today

CHICAGO (AP)—The tax-evasion trial of former Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton, a Republican, is scheduled to begin today in U.S. District Court with the selection of a jury.

Stratton, 50, was indicted April 9 by a federal grand jury. He was charged with failure to report $93,596 in income earned from 1957 through 1960 and failure to pay $46,676 in taxes on the income.

The indictment was suppressed until April 15, the day after the Illinois primary election, to avoid prejudicing the primary, U.S. Atty. Edward V. Hanrahan said.

Two prosecutors from the Department of Justice in Washington—Vincent P. Russo and Stephen Koplan—and John P. Crowley, an assistant U.S. attorney under Hanrahan, will present the government's case in the courtroom of Judge Hubert L. Will. The team said it expects to call some 75 witnesses.

Stratton's lawyers are George B. Crowley not related to prosecutor Crowley and William A. Barnett. The two are partners and former tax prosecutors for the government.

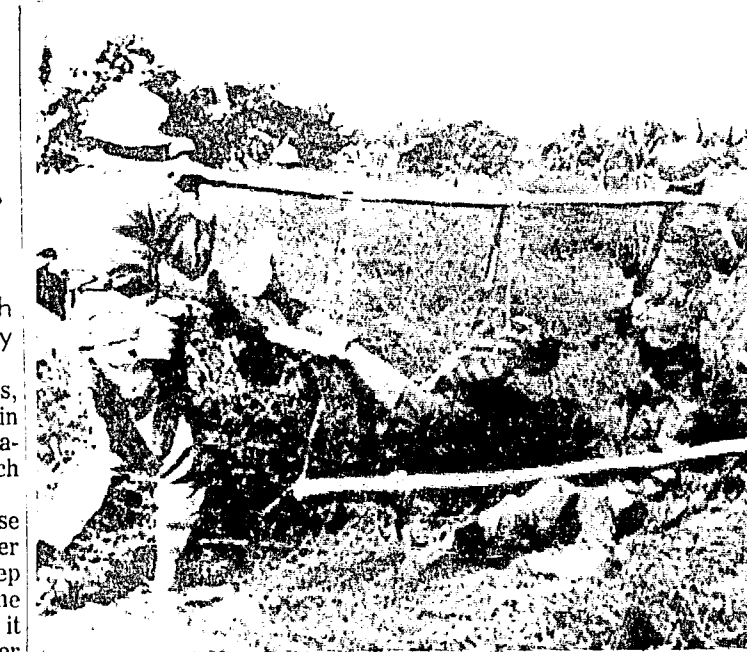

The government case, the prosecutors have said, is based on the so-called "net worth theory." In other words, the government will try to prove that the value of Stratton's possessions rose at a faster rate than would have been possible if his income was only what he reported.

In support of their case, government attorneys filed a bill of particulars Sept. 28 claiming the ex-governor's assets increased 2,430 per cent between 1949 and 1960.

The bill alleged that Stratton was worth $201,724.62 in 1960, his last year in office. In 1949, his assets totaled $8,300, the bill said.

After he was indicted, Stratton issued a statement saying he had been under investigation several years and had always allowed Internal Revenue Service agents free access to his records. "I do not believe I have done anything wrong whatsoever," the statement said.

Stratton has been a gentleman farmer and stockman at his Morris, Ill., farm since Gov. Otto Kerner, a Democrat, defeated his re-election bid in 1960. He is being tried in Chicago because his tax returns, made out jointly with his wife Shirley, were filed in Chicago.

Long Wins Post Of Demo Whip

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., was elected Democratic whip for the 89th Congress at a conference of Democratic senators today, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., reported.

Dodd left the closed meeting before it was over. He said Long won on the second ballot.

Dodd said Long won 41-27. Other contenders for the No. 2 Democratic leadership post were Sens. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., and A.S. (Mike) Monroney, D-Okl.

The spot was vacated when Hubert H. Humphrey moved up to vice president.

Long, 46, has served in the Senate 16 years. He is the son of former Sen. Huey P. Long. His mother also served briefly in the Senate after her husband was assassinated.

The Louisiana vote against the 1964 civil rights bill and also opposed the administration's Social Security health care plan on the floor. He also has sought to reduce administration foreign aid bills for years.

However, he said before today's caucus he expected no difficulty in working for administration programs in the new Congress.

The selection of a whip — or, officially, assistant majority leader — was the major business of the Democratic caucus. (Continued On Page Seven)

Malaysia Warns Will Retaliate 'If Forced To'

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The Malaysian government announced today it is prepared to retaliate against Indonesia "under the rule of law and if forced to."

Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman met with his Cabinet in emergency session following Indonesia's announcement that it is withdrawing from the United Nations.

Rahman announced that in view of the "mounting threat" from Indonesia, the Cabinet also decided to:

1. Ask Malaysia's allies in the British Commonwealth to send reinforcements if necessary.

2. Inform the United Nations "on the seriousness of the threat of more intensive Indonesian attack and request the United Nations to assist us in defense of our nation in the event of such a happening."

3. Establish more training centers to expedite the expansion of Malaysian armed forces.

The withdrawal from the United Nations by Indonesia, said Rahman, "follows a series of actions by that country in defiance of world opinion, the rule of law and the United Nations."

"The existence of small independent sovereign nations like Malaysia is being threatened by aggressive bullying and expansionist tactics of our neighbor."

1,000 Riot In Saigon

By PETER ARNETT
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A mob of 1,000 rioted through Saigon's main streets for more than three hours today, calling for the overthrow of Premier Tran Van Huong.

Viet Cong guerrillas ambushed another Vietnamese Ranger battalion near the town of Binh Gia and killed a U.S. adviser, the first American to die in 1965. Nine Rangers were killed and 30 or 40 were missing.

So far six Americans have been killed in the fighting around Binh Gia, which started last Tuesday. Two others are missing and presumed captured. Government casualties are estimated at about 50.

Since December 1961, 247 Americans have died in combat in Viet Nam.

Squads of armed marines made no attempt to stop the demonstrators in Saigon, but the rioters manhandled photographers and any police who got in the way. Fights broke out repeatedly as the crowd charged about the city.

Seek To Bar Mississippi Solons' Seating

By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A challenge by a preponderantly Negro group to the seating of Mississippi's five elected representatives comes before the House today against a backdrop of demonstrations and other moves designed to bar the five.

The challenge and the demonstrations are being mounted by the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party, the predominantly Negro group that contested with the regular Mississippi Democratic party for the right to seats at last summer's Democratic National Convention.

Under attack are veteran Reps. William M. Colmer, Jamie Whitten, Thomas G. Abernethy and John Bell Williams, Democrats, and newly elected Prentiss Walker, a Republican who rode into office when Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater swept the state last November.

Just two days ago, Williams, an 18-year veteran, and Rep. Albert W. Watson of South Carolina were penalized by House Democrats for openly supporting Goldwater in the presidential election. In a secret ballot the party caucus voted 157 to 115 to cancel all seniority rights for the two men, forcing them to the bottom of the list on all committees on which they hold membership.

In a joint statement Williams and Watson called the action "repugnant to our representative government" and the start of an assault on the seniority system that will lead to its demise.

Wealth Of The Sea

News about the record world-wide haul of fish in 1963 is, ironically, a reminder that the oceans could produce far more food than mankind has ever taken from them. The world's fisheries brought in a catch totaling an unprecedented 46.6 million metric tons during 1963, an increase of about two and a half per cent over the year before. Yet even this enormous amount could be greatly increased, and the hunger that afflicts a large part of humanity could be correspondingly reduced.

Fishing is still essentially, as it was centuries ago, a process of finding and capturing wild life. No husbandry is involved; man does not systematically feed or breed sea life, or even herd it. When it comes to seafood, our methods are comparable to those of the primitives who lived on wild game.

This could be changed, at least to some extent. Experiments suggest that it might be practicable to add nutrients to sea areas and thus increase the growth of desirable fish species. It also appears that herding, perhaps by electronic devices, could be developed until it was economically feasible. With international controls, such means could greatly increase the production of seafood.

Also, better use could be made of the present catch. It is noteworthy that most of the catch by the world's top fishing nation, Peru, was in anchovies which are used mainly not for human food but for animal feed and oils. Enormous quantities of rough fish now are used in such ways, or are wasted. But nutritious fish "flour" can be made of such fish, and this product could supply badly needed protein to the world's hungry people. The catch is large, but we have not yet begun to make full use of the oceans as a source of human food.

Not By War Alone

Defense Secretary McNamara has declared that not even a massive surprise attack by the Reds could prevent our destruction of both Russia and China, and that we could inflict 400 million casualties in half an hour. This vast deterrent power reduces the likelihood of intentional nuclear war.

But war is not the only thing to be feared. There is the possibility that communism might triumph over democracy without war. That is the challenge we face.

Communism's global march goes forward as relentlessly in peace as in war. On two continents, Asia and Africa, its progress is clear. In South America there is little to indicate that it is losing. We have the military force to stop it, but what good is military force in a struggle which is fought mainly with other weapons?

We are engaged primarily in a contest to win the minds, and thus to enlist the loyalty, of the rising masses of the earth's oppressed. The Western world does not seem to have learned how to win such a struggle without war.

There is little understanding of the reasons for this. In democracy we have the finest product of men's long effort to govern themselves justly. Why, then, should we be letting a rival with less to offer match and perhaps even surpass us in attracting the allegiance of uncommitted peoples? The situation demands an intensive study of whether we are being outstripped and if so what we are doing or neglecting to do that bears on the effort to achieve a just and orderly world.

Take It From Ann

Takes Ann's Advice and Winds Up

With Cut Over Eye and Loose Tooth

LANDERS

By ANN LANDERS: Your advice may work for some people but it didn't work for me. You had a letter in your column from a woman who said she reminded her husband it was her birthday. He gave her 25 cents and told her to go buy a birthday card. She was burned up and asked what she should have done.

You said she should have gone out and bought herself a dime card and given the big sport 15 cents change. I showed that column to my husband because my birthday was coming up. I thought maybe he'd give me the money to buy the box of dishes I've been wanting. Instead he said, "I will do better than that guy in Ann Landers' column. Here is 50 cents. Go out and buy yourself a real nice card."

I bought a dime card and gave him 40 cents back. He got real mad and now I have a cut over my eye and a loose tooth. Any more advice?—MRS. V. T. H.

Dear Mrs. V. T. H.: As soon as your eye gets better and you can read the phone directory, call Legal Aid and find out what can happen to a man who knocks his wife around. And then clue in your husband.

In the meantime, don't let him get his hands on this column or you might not be able to see at all.

Dear Ann Landers: My 73-year-old mother is a semi-invalid who lives with me. Previously she lived with another member of the family. As her illness became worse, mother became increasingly incapacitated and her presence was resented more and more. When it became apparent that she was being mistreated I took her into my home.

are in a position to give mother more than I can, in a material way, but they refuse to give her even five minutes of their time, let alone support.

I don't want their money, but it makes me sad to see mother so lonely. What is wrong with sons and daughters who become so involved with their trips, parties and shopping that they can't spare a few minutes to go see their mother?

These sons and daughters are the ones who wail the loudest at the funeral. And it will be a sense of guilt, rather than a feeling of loss, that will move them to tears.

Will you publish this letter, Ann? I'll bet it will hit thousands of thoughtless children right between the eyes. And please withhold the name of this city. Let them all guess. — CORNFLOWER BLUE

Dear Cornflower: Here it is—and it's not the first time such a letter appeared in my column. I hope those who are made uncomfortable by this letter will do something about it—while there is still time.

Dear Ann Landers: I just returned from a shopping trip and I am steaming. While browsing, my sleeve brushed against a small Swedish crystal vase. The vase fell off the shelf and broke. A saleswoman walked over and cheerfully said, "That is too bad. It will cost you $4.95."

I did not break the vase on purpose and told her so. She replied, "Do you see that sign, Madame?"—and pointed to a card which said, "If you break it—it's yours."

Shouldn't this sort of breakage be expected in all gift shops? I paid the $4.95 but you can be sure I'll never go back.

—PAID FOR A DEAD HORSE
Dear Paid: If I broke a vase in a shop I'd offer to pay for it without being shown a sign. It WAS an act of carelessness (and not malice) but people should be willing to pay for their mistakes.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Saturday, Jan. 9, 1965, will be the first anniversary of the Panama Canal riots.

On or about that date, give or take a week or two, officials here privately anticipate there will be a fresh series of demonstrations which could turn into riots, unless the Panamanian students can be sidetracked in advance.

American officials in Panama see the signs. The students had a test run in November.

The Panama government cracked down, put about a dozen of the ringleaders, into jail for 90 days. This will keep them out of circulation through the dangerous January period.

This jailing isn't expected to help much, however. The students are not short of radical leaders. Their two top agitators, Floyd Britton and Victor Avilla, have been going to college in Panama for many years. They stayed in the background after whipping up the students in November and were not arrested.

Right now, luckily, Britton and Avilla are said to be at loggerheads in some sort of a personal feud. Plans are under way to keep them fighting each other.

A score of lesser Communist leaders make a profession of going to college. They take one or two easy courses a year, do little or no studying, keep their college connections so as to be able to propagandize and agitate the younger students.

Then there are radical high school teachers and college professors in Panama. Experts say the Panamanian Department of Education is well infiltrated with Communist and extreme leftist bureaucrats.

Panamanian students are making plans for a parade—march to the cemetery to lay wreaths on the graves of the Jan. 9 "martyrs." (Ignored is the fact that some of these "martyrs" are now known to be looters who suffocated in the burning of an American building, and that others are known to have been killed by Red snipers.)

To prevent inflammatory incidents, plans are under way to try quietly to divert this parade away from the Canal Zone area.

The Problem: The situation in Panama vis-a-vis the United States is now worse than a year ago.

Communications between Americans in the Zone and Panamanian newspapers have worsened. There is also less cooperative contact between some groups of Panamanians and Americans.

The work of the Peace Corps has been largely in the rural areas. The crops haven't had much effect on the city slums from which many rioters come. The sources of friction in the Canal Zone have not been eased.

The three-way division of U.S. authority continues. Too great an extent the ambassador, the governor and the commanding general of U.S. military forces operate independently.

Little has been done to increase opportunities for Panamanians to rise to higher jobs in the Canal Zone hierarchy.

Even among moderate Panamanians, there is a growing feeling that Panama should have a larger voice in the canal and in the Zone.

To take steam out of any demonstrations, some officials now favor a dramatic U.S. statement on Panama by President Johnson about the first week in January.

Officer Thomas Jefferson Hoover of the night police force has returned from a visit in Montezuma, Pike county. It is understood he has a girl in that section of the country.

We are often asked, "Where is Markham?" It is situated on the Wabash railroad, five miles west of Jacksonville, contains a depot, Western Union telegraph office, union stockyards, general merchandise store and a graded school.

Families and friends have suffered enough with the pictures and publicity at the time of losing their loved one. This we realize is news and in the newspaper eye must be presented to its readers. But at this holiday time when probably every family is feeling the loss again we feel it is cruel to both family and friends to reemphasize this loss.

An article on safety was an excellent idea and yours was a good article but we feel it was unnecessary and cruel to name each fatality and date. Perhaps big bold print could have been used to catch the readers' eye and a composite of how many seat belts were used and how many were not. Couldn't this have been as effective? We feel it could! It is upsetting enough to open the paper and see a picture of a death car or place let alone to see a body lying there also. These pictures we feel are very unnecessary.

It is our hope that in 1965 you will strive to bring us the news as you have always done but more than that we hope you will put the human element first.

A dropsonde is a small airborne weather device used by the USAF air weather service. This instrument is dropped by parachute from a plane and automatically takes readings of temperature, air pressure and humidity, radioing the information back to the plane.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson begins the supreme test of his life today. He asked for it, and everything that went before was a preparation for this.

Until now he has been a man who inherited the presidency. The four-year term he finally won for himself and on his own doesn't officially begin until his inauguration Jan. 20.

But for all practical purposes it begins today at 9 p.m. with his State of the Union message to the new and overwhelmingly Democratic Congress. The message was not expected to lay down in detail the things he has in mind.

That in itself is one of the best insights not only into the man but into the difference between him and his predecessor, President John F. Kennedy.

Kennedy poured programs on Congress with glistening phrases. But, because he had won the presidency by a thin margin, seemed uncertain he had a dominant public backing.

As a result, he didn't fight hard for his proposals and failed to enlist broad public pressure on Congress to get what he wanted. Although he was a shining figure himself, his legislative performance was very unimpressive.

Johnson, who won election by the greatest plurality in history and will deal with a Congress more heavily Democratic than any since President Franklin D. Roosevelt's second term, is in a better position to demand action.

But he is reported to feel his election success was not necessarily a mandate to try to swamp Congress with programs but rather to feel his victory was a mandate for prudence and restraint.

That interpretation of Johnson's feelings can be taken with a grain of salt. Prudence and restraint just happen to be Johnson's way of trying to get what he wants by figuring the angles in each situation before he makes a move.

This political attitude can be put another way. He might, for example, by very heavy pressure and perhaps much conflict get exactly the kind of program he wants to provide medical care for the aged.

But in the process he might antagonize so many members of Congress that in the long run he would suffer crippling defeats with many other important pieces of legislation.

This presents the problem any president faces: Press for everything you want, as you want it, or settle for some of what you want, which means compromise. Johnson has admitted he is a compromiser, with this explanation: "I try to get something."

Anyone sophisticated in the American legislative process in a Congress representing so many divergent views and pressures knows that compromise is necessary and is the road to avoiding stalemates and getting things done.

Johnson was in Congress 23 years. But Johnson balances his instinct for compromise with fierce energy and persistence and extraordinary attention to details and the soft and strong points of the people he has to deal with.

Therein lies the key to his political philosophy.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

'Retarded': Catch-all Word

For Complex Child Problem

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
The real tragedy of mental retardation is that many persons apparently have taken an attitude of hopelessness and written off retarded children as a total loss. It is estimated that there are over 5 million such children in the United States, and that over 100,000 new cases are added annually.

Thanks to the National Association for Retarded Children—and a few doctors who might be classified as diehards—there is a brighter future for many of these unfortunate.

The first roadblock that had to be cleared was to discover and classify the causes of mental retardation and separate them into those that could be improved and those that are truly hopeless.

This was a job that required both dedication and patience. In the last 10 years the effort has begun to pay off.

Every normal parent wants for his child the highest achievement of which the child is capable. If the parents of even a severely retarded child can be assured that the child with proper treatment can be toilet-trained and learn to dress and feed himself, they will have much to be thankful for.

Brain damage can occur during pregnancy, during delivery or at any time after birth. Toxoplasmosis, German measles, with hormones.

certain drugs taken during pregnancy, exposure to X rays, Rh incompatibility and some diseases of pregnancy are some of the hazards that may result in a mentally retarded child. Birth injuries, especially those associated with prolonged labor or forceps delivery may cause retardation.

A woman exposed to German measles in the first three months of pregnancy should be given immune gamma globulin regardless of whether she has had German measles or not.

Any woman who is pregnant should avoid all drugs unless they are prescribed by her doctor WHO KNOWS THAT SHE IS PREGNANT.

She should avoid all exposure to X rays except in a true emergency, and even then her abdomen should be shielded.

If Rh incompatibility between her and her husband exists, preparations should be made to give the baby blood transfusions at birth if required. Steps to prevent premature delivery should be taken.

These include cutting out cigarettes during pregnancy or at least cutting down to less than a half pack a day.

Other measures, when too early a delivery threatens, include bed rest, a diet high in calcium, proteins and vitamins, and in some cases treatment with hormones.

Fancy Hamburgers

By GAYNOR MADDOX

The plain, every-day hamburger finds honor in American homes throughout the land. But there are people who insist on fancying up their hamburgers.

For example—and a particularly ambitious example—at a restaurant in New York called Spark's Pub South, the chef goes fancy with them. His so-called Sparkburgers are a half pound of meat filled with onions. But he goes international with them. Here are a few of his variations. Take your choice.

Italian Parmesan: Burger is topped with Italian tomato sauce and melted mozzarella cheese.

French Burgundy: Burger is soaked in wine and topped with mushrooms.

Danish style: Burger is filled with imported bleu cheese.

Mexican Chili: Burger is covered with chili con carne.

California Style: Burger has the works: Melted cheese, tomato, lettuce, pickle.

Russian Stroganoff: Burger is topped with sour cream and black caviar.

Grecian Style: Burger is covered with hot sauce and Greek olives.

Texas Rancher: Burger is covered with melted cheese and bacon.

Hawaiian Luau: Burger is covered with grilled pineapple and coconut flakes.

Hong Kong: Burger is soaked in soy sauce and sesame seeds topped with Chinese noodles.

German Tartar: Burger is served tartar style (raw), capers and anchovies.

Indian Curry: Burger is covered with curry sauce and melted bacon.

Siberian Iceberg: Chocolate covered frozen burger is served on a stick.

Cognac Burger: Hamburger is covered with cognac sauce and served flaming at the table.

The Mature Parent

On Punishing Children

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE:

What punishment can I give my boy, 9, to stop him running off with other children? I can't keep an eye on him all the time. I have tried to explain the trouble he causes me by running off with other boys without telling me where he going but he goes right on doing it. I have to telephone the neighbors to find out where he is or go and look for him.

ANSWER: I cannot tell you how to punish your child. I can't tell you because I know nothing about your child's past experience of you. It is that past experience of us which makes our punishments effective or ineffective.

A parent in your situation might decide to punish his child by depriving him of his friends for two days.

If the child has been given cause to trust our respect for his possessions, depriving him of his friends for two days would be effective punishment.

It would be effective because this deprivation would so contrast with our customary respect for his possessions that he would be shocked into thinking, "So oddly is this parent treating me that she must take my running-off very seriously. It must really worry her as much as she says it does to make her behave so extraordinarily." And we could expect some regretful awareness of our worry.

But if depriving the child of his rights to his possessions is something we do every day, then depriving him of his friends for two days will be ineffective punishment. If we allow our younger children to use his toys, throw out his broken ones without his permission and incinerate his collection of toys behind his back, he will experience no shock when we deprive him of his friends for two days.

Among native Australians "message sticks" are used to carry information. Notches made on a tree branch in the presence of the messenger, who receives his instructions while they are being made. American Indians also used notched sticks to record various tribal incidents.

Dessert: Love and Kisses

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—Some of your women readers may like to surprise their husbands and express their love in the unique way my wife did when she put several big red lipstick kisses on the absorbent tissue she uses to cover the bottom of my lunch basket.—JOHN

Girls—What could be better than love and kisses for dessert?—POLLY

DEAR POLLY— I do lots of sewing for my three daughters and myself. There are always several garments in various stages of completion. I keep each folded in a separate suit-box with its pattern, buttons, zippers, thread and so on and when I am ready to sew on a certain garment I have it all ready.

I found boxes the height of pattern envelopes, grouped my many patterns according to sizes and categories such as suits, dresses and so on and they are filed in these boxes.

My daughters receive many corsages and I save the pins that come in them to use when working on heavy fabrics as they have sharp points and do not leave holes in the materials.

Our bakery packages bread in plastic bags which I save for my daughters' shoes. The bags not only protect the shoes but make it easier to find the right ones when they have so many different colors.

We recently decorated our den and the assorted colors of the books on our shelves gave a cluttered look to the room. I bought shelf paper in colors that would look well in the room and made dust jackets for the books which now look uniform and most decorative.—DOROTHY

DEAR POLLY— If you have ever struggled to hang a number of coat hangers on the little hook in a car you will appreciate my tip. Hook all the hangers with garments on them to one hanger and hang only that one on the car hook.—ROBERTA

DEAR POLLY— Save those worn plastic tablecloths. They make ideal aprons for general cleaning days. Cut them out with a scalloped edge. I usually make one large pocket all across the front and then stitch through it to make three or four smaller pockets (like a shoe bag) so they can hold sponges, dust cloths and so on with no dirt or dampness coming through. Sew on a waistband and you are ready to go.—MRS. R. A. W.

Gen. Bradley Reopens U.S.-British Wrangle Over Falaise Gap Battle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley says British Field Marshal Bernard L. Montgomery "was so darned scared" during a key World War II battle that he failed to close the escape route was fully closed on the German army.

"I've often wondered if I should have taken Monty's job and closed the gap by ourselves," said Bradley, who commanded more than 1.3 million American soldiers in Europe.

The five-star general's caustic remarks reopened a 20-year-old British-American wrangle over responsibility for tardiness in encircling a 100,000-man Nazi force in Normandy.

Bradley, 71, a watch company executive now, spoke of the Falaise Gap dispute in a little-noticed interview in a U.S. military academy publication, "The Pointer."

Military men have debated command decisions in the Falaise Gap battle almost since it ended in late August 1944 with the partial encirclement of the German 7th Army. Up to 40,000 Germans managed to escape before the ring finally was closed.

Bradley commanded a U.S. Army group driving from the south while Montgomery led British-Canadian forces moving down from the north.

On Aug. 13, the official Army History says, Bradley "stopped further movement to the north" and the leading American corps pulled up south of the town of Argentan.

At the time, the Canadians in the van of Montgomery's forces were several miles north of Falaise. A stretch of some 25 miles separated the Canadians from the Americans and it wasn't until Aug. 21 that the escape route was fully closed on the Germans.

"We closed our part of it," said Bradley. "The plan was for our Army to come up from the south and the British to come down from the north."

"Excuse me if I say anything against him (Montgomery) but recently he's been cussin' out Ike (Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower) and everybody else—he was so darned scared he came around from the west and, as Eisenhower said, he squeezed the toothpaste out of the tube instead of closing the hole."

Critics of Montgomery have used this figure of speech in describing pressure by a British army from northwest of the pocket—pressure they contended accelerated the escape of the Germans eastward.

Bradley also reminisced about the late Gen. George S. Patton, the flamboyant tank commander who served under him.

"Gen. Eisenhower and I discovered that if we gave him a headline, he'd go 20 miles," Bradley said.

"So we deliberately threw the headlines to him and now everybody has the idea that he was the best tank commander."

Patton "did have a great feel for the battle" and "was a good man to have on your flank," Bradley acknowledged.

MAKER OF MIDGET MEN—William H. Bartlett of Salt Lake City, Utah, has an unusual hobby. For his own entertainment, he sculpts tiny figures to illustrate literary classics. Some of his figures include Long John Silver, Friar Tuck and Robinson Crusoe.

WRONG-WAY DRIVERS—Statistics show that about 8 per cent of fatal freeway accidents are caused by wrong-way driving. Near Sacramento, Calif., engineers have been experimenting with a sign that warns wrong-way drivers with a horn and a blinking red light. The action is triggered by a detector buried in the pavement.

Science Shrinks Piles

New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction ("shrinkage") took place.

Most amazing of all—results were as thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H® At all drug counters.

Falling Water Level Of Great Lakes Is Causing Concern In U.S., Canada

TORONTO (AP) — All in all, it was a bad year on the Great Lakes, especially for ships and shipping. Whatever hurts the cheap and easy movement on the lakes of 230 million tons of cargo will, if it persists, affect the economy of both the United States and Canada. The trouble is the water's falling. It was not only a bad year for ships and shippers, it was a bad year for hydroelectric power, for wildlife and fish in the marshes of Lakes Huron and Michigan. It was also a bad year for hundreds of resort and marina operators.

There are 26 million people living in the 265,000 square miles of the lakes' drainage basin. While the basin is important to the United States, it is indispensable to Canada, constituting a biding link in that nation's political and economic life.

About one of eight Americans lives on or near the lakes. One of every three Canadians. The blame for the situation rests, of course, on a four-year drought in the drainage area. But the works of man have been contributing factor. Even if there are heavy rains and snows this winter, the water tables in the areas surrounding the lakes are so low that the lakes will scarcely be helped. With the exception of Lakes Superior and Ontario, where the water flow can be regulated, the water levels in the lakes are lower than at any time in the 104 years engineers have been measuring fluctuations in the world's greatest body of fresh water.

In some places the water is four to 15 inches below the minimum low water depths used by the Army Engineers in establishing dredging depths for harbor and lake channels.

Every navigation chart issued for lake use — again excepting Lakes Superior and Ontario — is now in error. Sooner or later, nearly everyone says that "the lakes always come back" and "just 10 years ago we were worrying about high water."

But the present question is: How bad is bad — and what can be done about it? Last summer Neil Rutherford drove his car to his cottage near Oliphant on the Bruce Peninsula. Normally, Rutherford's cottage is a mile offshore, accessible only by boat.

The Hydroelectric Power Commission of the Province of Ontario reported for the second year in a row that the reduced flow or water over Niagara Falls had forced it to spend $13 million to generate electricity by steam.

Every time the water level drops an inch an 18,000-ton ship loses 80 tons of cargo capacity. A 24,000-tonner loses 100 tons. J.A. Hirschfield, president of the Great Lakes Carriers Association at Cleveland, estimates that the cargo capacity of the 490-boat lake fleet — 200 of them Canadian — has been reduced nearly 10 million tons by low water.

This, he said, figures out to revenue loss of about $19 million. Ships of 15,000 tons traveling the St. Lawrence Seaway were loading only 12,000 tons in order to make the passage to Montreal.

This loss of cargo makes the seaway less attractive to ocean going ships.

When all are reported some weeks hence, before-tax profits for the nation's corporations in 1964 should total around $58 billion or more. With income taxes taking about $26 billion of this, the after-tax net would be around $32 billion, a record, and compares with $26.7 billion in 1963.

Corporations with fiscal years ending before the calendar year, including the majority in some industries, already have shown how the profit tide is rising. Only a handful have reported decreased earnings, and usually these individual companies were going against the trend of their own industries.

Firestone Tire & Rubber netted $79 million in fiscal 1964, against $63 million the previous year. International Harvester made almost $99 million, against $68 million. Carrier profits were up $2.67 million to $10.85 million.

Meat packers are almost unanimous in reporting sizable gains over the previous year. Armour, $22.8 million, against $16.3 million; Wilson, $12.4 million from $7.3 million; Hormel, $5.7 million, up from $2.9 million; Morrell, $4.7 million, against $2.5 million; and Cudahy, $1.75 million profit, compared with the previous year's loss of $1.98 million.

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the happiest tunes in the opening days and weeks of the New Year will be entitled "Record Profits."

Many corporations have reported notable gains over their previous year's figures. This week the leading banks of the nation are expected to announce increased earnings for the year just ended. The glad tidings from industrial firms should reach caroling volume by the end of the month and early February.

Largest reporting to date is American Telephone & Telegraph's Bell System, which had 12-month record earnings of $1.7 billion, up from $1.5 billion in the 1963 period.

When all are reported some weeks hence, before-tax profits for the nation's corporations in 1964 should total around $58 billion or more. With income taxes taking about $26 billion of this, the after-tax net would be around $32 billion, a record, and compares with $26.7 billion in 1963.

Fredricka Weber Wed In New York

BEARDSTOWN — Miss Fredricka Weber, better known in the world of TV and the theatre as Freddie Weber, became the bride of Gerry Matthews Sunday Dec. 20 in New York City.

She is the daughter of Fred Weber of this city and Mrs. Iris Weber Schafer of Harvey and for several years has been busy in television and nightclub work in Chicago and New York. She is a graduate of Beardstown High School.

The small wedding took place at the home of Ward Baker, director of the off-broadway show, "The Fantasticks."

Julius Monk, the famed New York producer, gave a reception in honor of the couple in the Plaza Hotel Gold and White suite.

Mr. Matthews is currently appearing in Monk's "Bits and Pieces" at the Plaza.

The bride plans to retain her maiden name in her career.

Her most recent TV work has been in commercials, and she is continuing her studies in voice and drama in New York.

ASHLAND — Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lewis Sr., their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dale DeGroot and family, who have been visiting in Sacramento, Calif. at the home of the former's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McCarty and family, have returned to their respective homes here.

Mrs. Evalene Adams, second grade teacher at the local school, entertained Ashland school board members at an open house at her home Wednesday evening.

S. S. Brownback and Art Roth Jr., who have been on a hunting trip in Polk County, returned to their homes recently.

Mrs. Ray Isenhower has been discharged from St. John's hospital, Springfield.

ROODHOUSE AIRMAN AND FAMILY HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS

ROODHOUSE — Airman first class and Mrs. Richard Lawson and sons are visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cline Lawson.

On Christmas day other dinner guests in the Lawson home were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Spangenberg of Jacksonville. On Saturday Mrs. Grace Olson of Jacksonville was a supper guest of the Lawsons, and on Sunday guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Spangenberg and Sheryl of Macomb, Greg Spangenberg of Carbondale and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spangenberg and Jill of Jacksonville.

The Richard Lawson family will leave January 3 to return to their home in Panama City, Florida, where Richard is stationed with the Air Force at Tyndall Air Base.

EXTENSION UNITS SET JOINT SESSION

CHANDLERVILLE — The Bath - Lynchburg and Duck Haven Extension units plan a joint meeting at the Fairview Methodist church, four miles northwest of Chandlerville, at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday.

A potluck supper will be served to members and their families.

A representative of the Peoria social security office will be the guest speaker.

Mrs. Floyd Toland, Mrs. Urban Kramer, Mrs. Freeman Blessman and Mrs. Roy Fletcher will be hostesses for the evening.

GARY DECKER TO ATTEND SCHOOL

Gary Decker will attend a 24-week nuclear power school course in San Francisco starting the first week in January. Gary arrived home on leave after completing a 12-week course at Great Lakes Naval Training School. Gary visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Decker. Gary is serving as a fireman apprentice in the U.S. Navy. He graduated from JHS in 1964 and entered the Navy in July.

Boyle's Fuzzy Forecast For 1965

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — The world will be a buzzing hive throughout 1965 — and you'll have to watch your step to keep from being stung.
This is revealed in our annual uncopied fuzzy forecast of the future.

The crystal ball is even more clouded than usual, but a peek into its mystic depths discloses that during the next 12 months these things probably will happen:

President Johnson will indignantly deny an accusation from Peking that America plans to solve its poverty problem by shooting all its poor people to the moon.

Wedding bells will ring in the White House.
Former Premier Khrushchev of the Soviet Union will solve the Soviet government's biggest unemployment problem by accepting a post as public relations adviser to President Charles de Gaulle of France.

Germany, which made less out of war than anybody, will continue to make more out of peace than anybody. Japan will announce plans to build the world's first all-plastic aircraft carrier.

Nobody will swim the English Channel in either direction during January, February or March. In June, however, an Egyptian swimming east will collide in midchannel with a girl factory worker from Manchester swimming west. They will wed in July — underwater.

A scandal will break out in Merrie Olde Englands when one of Her Majesty's ministers is caught cheating at darts in a local pub. Calm will be restored after a televised appeal by Sir Winston Churchill for the nation to stand steady.

Don't look for much change in Viet Nam. The only noteworthy improvement will occur about the middle of the year when, after a bloodless revolt led by three students and an unfrocked Buddhist, a new government will be installed headed by a fellow whose name can be pronounced in English.

On the domestic front, keep an eye open for these possibilities:

J. Edgar Hoover will be quietly offered a post as quarterback of the New York Giants football team — because of his reputation of never having been thrown for a loss.

A sensational new dance, known as "the Queep," will sweep society circles. This is how it will work: Two partners will lie down on opposite sides of the room and "queep" toward each other like serpents, without the aid of hands or feet. While some ministers will denounce the dance as degrading if not immoral, a prominent psychiatrist will defend it on the grounds that it is a harmless way of getting rid of hidden aggressions.

A movement led by Richard M. Nixon will seek to find out if America can survive under a two-party system. Former President Harry S. Truman will denounce it as totally unnecessary.

Late in the year an invisible man from Mars will land in the outskirts of Washington, D.C., to check into the possibilities of using earth as a vacation resort for Martians. After three days he will return to Mars and report to his superiors: "It's no place for us."

But, all in all, 1965 will be a good time to be alive. Just lay in a good stock of aspirin.

Beardstown Men Awaiting Trial

BEARDSTOWN — Dale Hitz, 25, has been sentenced to 30 days in jail for failure to report to his probation officer and Judge Fred W. Reither is now considering a petition to revoke the probation of Terry Thomas Bauser, 20.

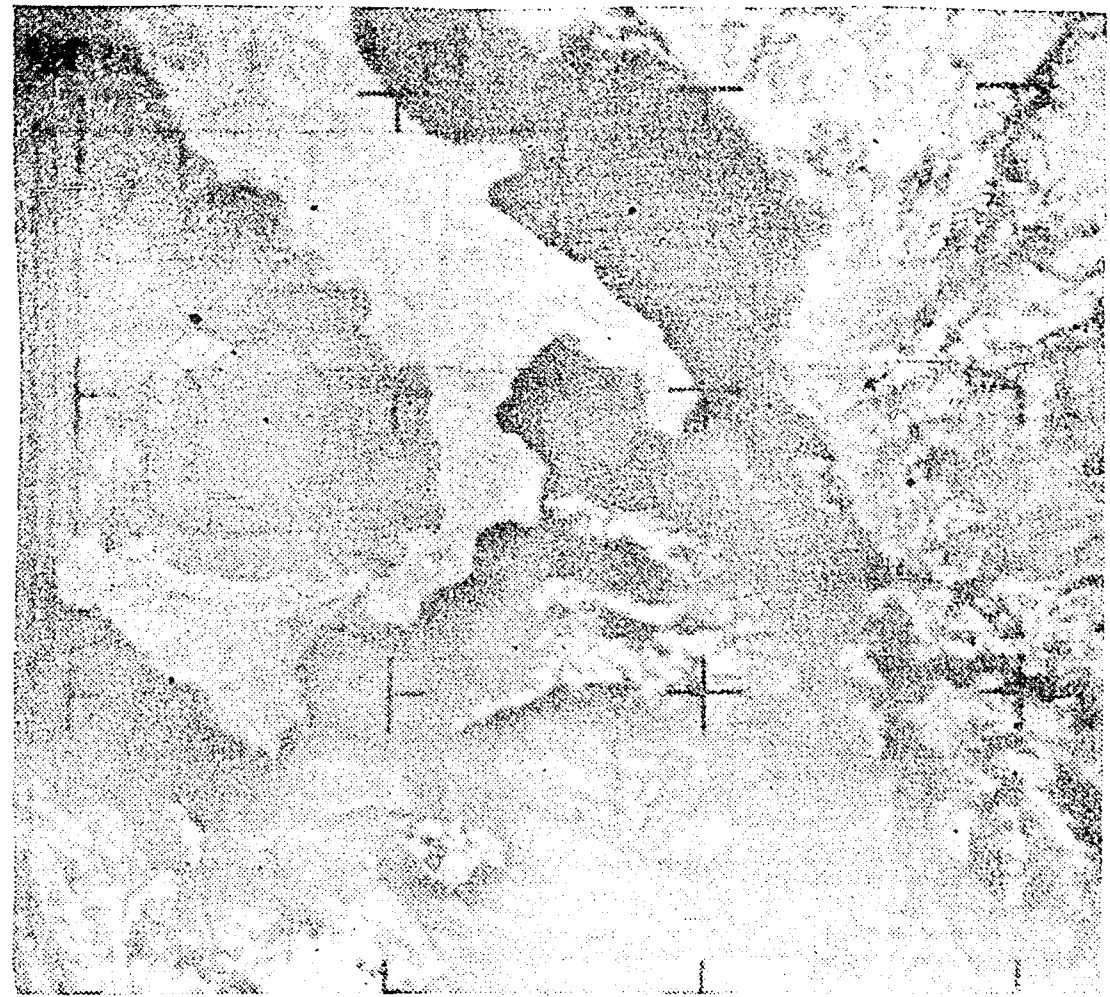

The two Beardstown men were arrested in connection with 21 robberies in five counties. Merchandise stolen in Adams, Brown, Cass, Sangamon and Schuyler counties has been recovered, and announcement is being awaited as to where the pair will stand trial.

Grand Coulee dam, largest concrete structure in the U.S., stretches 4,173 feet across the Columbia River in the northwest.

Can You Believe It?—Looks Just Like Maps!

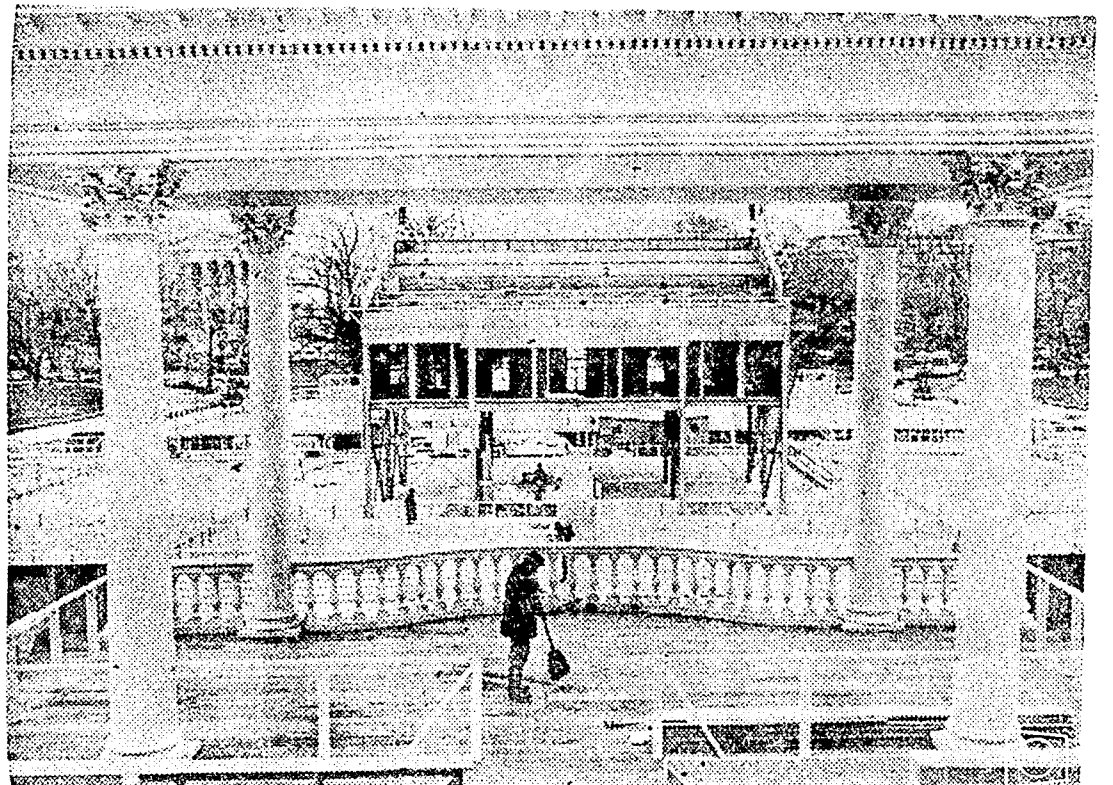

Photo, taken in orbit by Nimbus I on September 9, shows sharply the eastern Mediterranean. Seen are Italy's "boot," with Sicily at its toe and Albania opposite its heel.

By launching 1964's 33rd American satellite, Explorer 26, just before Christmas, NASA completed its space-launching schedule for the year. It was NASA's 28th good shot, representing an average of 85 per cent success for the program. This Explorer brought to nearly 500 the number of man-made objects circling in space. Top NASA success of 1964 was photographing the moon's surface by Ranger 7 on July 28. This produced 4316 crystal clear moon views. The mission of another photographic satellite is not scheduled to be completed until next July 14. This is the Nov. 28 shot that started Mariner 4 on its 134,000,000-mile journey to a fly-by within 8000 miles of Mars. Increasing efficiency of spatial photography is demonstrated by the remarkable clarity of the above photos, transmitted by NASA's Nimbus weather satellite in September.

Illinois Legislature Convenes Wednesday

needs more money listed these possibilities:

An income tax; higher corporation franchise taxes; one cent hike in gasoline taxes; payroll tax; increases in cigarette, race track and sales taxes.

Sen. Gordon Kerr, R-Brookport, announced he will introduce a bill to raise cigarette taxes one cent per package and earmark the revenue for recreational development. A similar bill was vetoed by Kerner two years ago.

The AP survey showed about an even split among legislators who replied to a question whether they favored or opposed a half-cent sales tax boost for cities. Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago has indicated he will push this proposal.

The survey also disclosed widespread sentiment for changing the revenue article. But there was sharp disagreement over permitting or banning an income tax — stumbling block to revenue reform in past sessions.

On another controversial subject, 37 of 70 legislators who answered said they favored open occupancy legislation. Twenty-two were opposed and 11 undecided.

They all agreed the general assembly must solve House reapportionment and avoid the prospect of another confusing at-large election.

There were conflicting opinions about Senate redistricting and whether a plan to arrange the seats by population could be worked out in line with a U.S. Supreme Court ruling.

Presession caucuses to select leaders will be held Tuesday night.

House Democrats, holding an 118-59 majority over Republicans, are expected to choose Rep. John Touhy of Chicago as speaker. Rep. John Morris, D-Chadwick, also is a candidate.

Senate Republicans, who will hold a 33-25 edge in the upper chamber, already have named Sen. W. Russell Arrington of Evanston as their leader.

Kerner and other Democratic state officials re-elected Nov. 3, along with the new Democratic secretary of state — Paul Powell of Vienna — will be inaugurated Jan. 11.

Q. How about excise taxes?

A. Well, there you give me a chance to preen my feathers a little. As you recall, I introduced the proposal in the Senate Finance Committee to repeal the four categories of excise taxes that were put on during the Korean struggle, namely jewelry, cosmetics, luggage, and hand bags and so forth. I really won by a huge vote, 2 to 1, the first time around. But before final action was taken, something happened.

But we Republicans were the pioneers in the field, and it did not make me a bit unhappy when the administration announced that it was going to do something in that field. So all I can say is I hope they will give credit where credit is due.

The re-election of Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana as majority leader was a foregone conclusion. The caucus also was to pick other party officials, including a secretary of the Democratic conference, with Sen. George A. Smathers of Florida expected to be re-elected.

Mansfield, who took no sides in the whip fight — said he would move for a succession of secret ballots, eliminating the candidate with the lowest count on any ballot until one wins a majority.

There appeared little likelihood of a contest in a separate caucus of the Senate's 32 Republicans starting 30 minutes later.

Talk of an effort to unseat Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California as Republican whip under Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois has just about died out. The talk was based on Kuchel's refusal to campaign for Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the GOP presidential candidate.

Dirksen's re-election appeared likely to be unanimous.

RECEIVES 20-YEAR PIN—Gordon R. Wolgamott, right, of 901 West Walnut received his 20-year service emblem from Joy G. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue, during ceremonies in Springfield recently. Mr. Wolgamott is employed as internal revenue agent in the Jacksonville office. The ceremony was held at IRS's first annual employee recognition day held at the Holiday Inn in Springfield with about 550 fellow employees present for the occasion.

Burch's Plea Seems To Spark No New Stands

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dean Burch's plea in letters to all 132 members of the Republican National Committee that he be allowed to stay on as chairman seems to have produced no change of heart.

If they were for him before they heard from him they still are; if they were against him, they are still against him, an Associated Press survey indicated.

Burch's argument that he ought to be retained was keyed to the theme of an earlier letter written to the committee members by Barry Goldwater, the 1964 GOP presidential candidate who picked Burch for the job.

Goldwater had said firing Burch would be "a repudiation of me" and "those Republicans who have supported me and the principles for which I stood."

Similarly, Burch said his resignation has been urged on the grounds that he is a symbol of Goldwater and "of the so-called 'conservative faction' of the Republican party."

"If this is true," Burch said, "then my resignation under pressure at this time would clearly be interpreted as a full repudiation by the Republican party of all those voters who identified themselves with responsible conservative Republicanism."

Bombers Streak Over Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Strategic Air Command bombers will streak high over Chicago today, beginning a three-month training mission expected to strain windows and perhaps nerves to the breaking point.

Residents have been warned to expect repeated sonic booms caused by B-58 Hustler bombers flying at supersonic speeds. The planes are attached to the 305th Bomb Wing at Bunker Hill Air Force Base in Indiana.

State police continued stepped-up traffic enforcement during the 78-hour period which began last Thursday at 6 p.m. and ended at midnight Sunday.

State police administrative and headquarters personnel made regular traffic patrols.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Motors and steels were losers in a declining stock market late this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.3 million shares compared with 6.53 million on Thursday.

General Motors sank more than 2 points as Du Pont made distribution of its final 23 million shares of GM stock. Du Pont rose more than a point.

Most other motors were lower, Chrysler losing nearly 1. Steels were unchanged to lower, affected by President Johnson's request to his economic advisers that they look into recent price increases for galvanized sheet steel.

Caution overhanging Wall Street on a number of unanswered questions about 1965 — steel labor negotiations, the British pound and the investment climate.

General Electric was down about 2. IBM and Polaroid more than 2.

American Telephone advanced more than a point on record earnings.

Also down about 2 were Lukens Steel, Florida Power & Light, Grumman, Allied Stores and Norfolk & Western, and Sears, Roebuck.

Prices were lower in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were irregularly higher.

NEARLY 850,000 BERLINERS CROSS WALL ON HOLIDAYS

BERLIN (AP) — The Communists closed the Berlin wall again Sunday night after nearly 850,000 West Berliners made Christmas and New Year visits to relatives in East Berlin.

More than 1.2 million West Berliners crossed the wall during the two-week period last year. Under the agreement reached last September the Communists now permit four visiting periods a year. Two more remain, at Easter and Whitsunday.

By charging each person over 16 entering East Berlin 75 cents for the visit, the Communists collected nearly $500,000 in hard currency.

Flood Region Will Need Aid For Many Weeks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Northern California's emergency food airlifts and temporary housing will stretch on for weeks in the aftermath of the Christmas week flood, the Air Force and Red Cross predicted today.

Gloomy prospects for northern California contrasted with a brighter forecast in the West's four other flood-distressed states — Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Nevada.

Oregon Red Cross officials reported that most of their state's 8,000 temporarily homeless families were moving back to their homes.

Washington, Idaho and Nevada weathermen reported their states have returned to a normal winter climate. Washington State received a heavy snow blanket Sunday.

A driving blizzard stranded an estimated 1,000 skiers and motorists at Sierra Nevada resorts Sunday and motorists continued to have uncertain luck on snow-choked highways.

In the flood zone, many homes surviving the rampaging waters are unlivable, the Red Cross said, because of silt, vermin and dampness. About 7,000 families are affected.

Sooner Defense Key For Florida State Triumph

By F.T. MACFEELEY
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — "Our offense was able to capitalize on their defense," is the way Coach Bill Peterson explained his Florida State Seminoles' 36-19 victory over Oklahoma in the Gator Bowl Game.

It may have been the only football game ever played with nine touchdowns and only one extra point.

FSU felt the absence of place-kicker Les Murdock Saturday. He was ruled out on the eve of the game after it was learned he attended the University of Tampa in 1959. There was some question about whether the limit of five years eligibility from first enrollment applied to him.

Oklahoma kicked the only extra point, made after its first touchdown. Butch Metcalf put the Sooners ahead 7-6 with the boot. After the second Oklahoma touchdown, he also made the kick, but Florida State was offside on the play and the Sooners took the penalty, trying for two points from the 1½. It failed.

"I guess it was the only point our team ever gave away like that," Coach Gomer Jones said. "But we were behind 24-13 and thought it was worth going for two."

It was a record-breaking game in many respects, and the big record-breakers were quarterback Steve Tensi and All-America flanker Fred Billeitnikoff.

They were the key men in FSU's pro-type offense that rattled the Oklahoma defense.

Their records and Gator bowl marks they erased:

Tensi completed five touchdown passes. Galen Hall of Penn State completed three in 1961.

Tensi attempted 36 passes. Bobby Ply of Baylor tried 24 in 1960.

Tensi completed 23 passes. John Rauch of Georgia completed 13 in 1948.

Tensi threw for 303 yards. Rauch gained 215 in 1948.

Billeitnikoff caught four touchdowns. Twenty-two players had caught one each.

Billeitnikoff caught 13 passes for 192 yards. Ronnie Goodwin of Baylor caught 7 for 129 yards in 1960.

The longest pass in the 20-year Gator Bowl history was made by Oklahoma's Ronnie Fletcher to Ben Hart for 95 yards. The previous record was 58 yards by Rauch to Bill Henderson for Georgia in 1948.

It was the highest-scoring Gator Bowl game, the 55 total bettered the 48 tallied when Texas Tech beat Auburn 35-13 on Jan. 1, 1954.

Gallatin Returns To Familiar Club

NEW YORK (AP) — Square-jawed Harry Gallatin came back to his old stomping grounds today to take charge of the New York Knickerbockers with whom he rose to National Basketball Association stardom more than a decade ago.

Gallatin, 37, was named coach of the Knicks Sunday, just a week after he guided St. Louis to a 99-89 triumph over New York and then was promptly fired as coach of the Hawks.

No salary was announced, but it is believed to be in the $20,000-$25,000 bracket.

As Knicks' coach, Gallatin succeeds Eddie Donovan, who was handed the post of general manager. Donovan was in his fourth season as coach. The Knicks finished last in the NBA's Eastern Division during each of Donovan's three complete seasons.

Gallatin takes over the coaching reins with the Knicks buried in last place in the East. The club has won 12 and lost 26 and trails the leading Boston Celtics by 20 games.

Gallatin, known for his "fighting, feuding and fussing creed" both as a player and coach, was nicknamed the "Iron Man" during his 10 years as an NBA player. He saw action in 682 consecutive regular season games and 64 straight playoff contests, a record since broken by Dolph Schayes and John Kerr.

Gallatin played in the first seven league All-Star games while he was with the Knicks and is the only New York player ever to be named to the All-Star first team. He also holds team records for most rebounds in one season with 1,099 and most rebounds in one game, 33 against Fort Wayne in 1953.

Back home again in Indiana — that's where the Hoosiers may wish they were tonight.

Indiana, one of the two remaining unbeaten major teams in the country, goes up against Big Ten foe Illinois in the Assembly Hall at Champaign and, as any good Illini can tell you, it's quite a job to beat Illinois at home.

Take defending national champion UCLA for example. The Uclans, making a run at collegiate basketball's top rung with an eight-game winning streak, went into Champaign early in the season and the Illini raced off to a 110-83 victory.

UCLA got out of town fast and hasn't lost since. Last week the defending champs won three games and that's considerably better than some of the other ranked teams did.

Michigan, No. 1 team in the country, barely beat Princeton with a late rally and then blew a 16-point bulge to lose the ECAC Holiday Festival in New York to St. John's 75-74.

St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, ranked No. 10, wrought a bit of havoc in the Quaker City Classic, beating first No. 6 Illinois 75-71 and then No. 2 Wichita 76-69 to take the title. Just as the Hawks looked ready to start scoring, up popped that other unbeaten team, Providence, to score a 65-61 victory.

That gave the Friars eight straight victories, one less than Indiana.

The Hoosiers, who were ranked No. 7 last week, whacked ninth-ranked St. Louis 98-68 and then belted Memphis State 91-68.

Illinois, which beat Wisconsin last month in the only Big Ten game played so far this season, moved into its brand new 16,000 seat home arena for good last season and ran up a 7-3 record. That's not bad for a club which was only 13-11 over-all. This year the Illini have won all three starts at home including the big one against UCLA.

And while Illinois and Indiana clash in the Big Ten's first important game, Michigan, licking its wounds after its Holiday Festival jolt, promises to be a factor in the upcoming league race too.

In other important games tonight, Wichita is at Bradley, Wisconsin plays at Iowa, Louisville hosts Drake, Kansas visits Nebraska, Tulsa is at St. Louis and Seattle is at Idaho State.

CHICAGO (AP) — After a rugged nonconference schedule in which they compiled a 62-31 (.663) winning edge over outside opposition, Big Ten basketball teams plunge into the championship race this week.

Indiana, emerging as the only unbeaten team after polishing off nine nonleague foes, invades tough Illinois (8-2 over all) Monday night while Wisconsin (5-4) is at Iowa (5-4) in the only other Big Ten game.

A full round of title action is on tap Saturday with Northwestern (4-6) at Indiana in a regionally televised matinee, Illinois at Michigan (8-2), Iowa at Michigan State (4-5), Wisconsin at Minnesota (8-2) and Ohio State (6-4) at Purdue (6-3).

The race shapes up as one of the best in years. But the start is especially rugged for the ambitious Illini, who already have one conference victory. They defeated Wisconsin 70-56 last month in the only conference game played to date.

The Illini's title dreams could soar or be roughly jolted in the first week of full-scale title firing. If they defeat both Indiana and Michigan they will be on the inside track. Losing both might prove too much to overcome.

Pre-conference competition ended Saturday. Minnesota

Coast To Revise Way Of Naming Rose Bowl Foe

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The Pacific Athletic Conference — AAWU — has taken steps to revise the manner of selecting its Rose Bowl representative — a move anticipated by many sports observers after the New Year's Day carnage this year.

Robley C. Williams, president of the AAWU faculty council, announced the formation of a five-man committee Sunday to develop recommendations on the method of selection and the manner of balloting for next year's Rose Bowl contender.

A crisis brewed early last month when Oregon State was selected over Southern California, despite the fact that the two teams each received four votes.

Under the current rule, the team that was last in the Rose Bowl automatically bows to the other.

Sports observers made dire predictions for Oregon State against heavily favored Michigan, and when game time rolled around, Oregon was toppled 34-7.

So, it was back to the drawing boards for the AAWU, who Sunday named Washington State's athletic director Stan Bates to chair the restudy committee.

Gambrell Biggest Man For Cards Against Packers

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI (AP) — Billy (Peanuts) Gambrell, one of the smallest players in the National Football League, made himself a big target for Charley Johnson's passes and the St. Louis Cardinals upset the favored Green Bay Packers 24-17 in the Pro Playoff Bowl Sunday.

The 167-pound Gambrell, a free agent picked up by the Cardinals from South Carolina, caught two touchdown passes from Johnson, one an 80-yard play, as the Cardinals took a 17-3 lead in the third quarter.

A Green Bay attack in the final period put the Packers back into contention, but the threat died with Jimmy Burson's end-zone interception of Paul Hornung's pass meant for Ron Kramer.

Gambrell, who had seen regular service only since mid-season when Sonny Randall was injured, was voted the most valuable player. He caught six passes for 184 yards, setting a Playoff Bowl record.

It was the first victory for the East in the game of NFL runners-up.

"We looked like we were sleep walking," growled Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi. "We came out of the huddle like we were dying."

The Packers, six-point favorites, moved into an early 3-0 lead on a 40-yard field goal by Paul Hornung.

In the second quarter, Gambrell got behind Jesse Whitenton, caught Johnson's perfectly placed pass over his shoulder at the Green Bay 48 and raced in for the initial touchdown.

Johnson took the Cardinals in twice in the third quarter for a field goal and a touchdown for a 17-3 margin.

Green Bay's first touchdown came easily. Burson fumbled a punt to Elijah Pitts at the St. Louis 16 and Jim Taylor got across in two plays.

Another St. Louis drive highlighted by a 49-yard pass from Johnson to Gambrell was killed by a fumble after the Cardinals reached the Packer six. Lee Roy Caffey knocked Johnson loose from the ball and recovered.

On the next play, Starr suffered his first interception after 251 throws. Jerry Stovall picked it off and ran 30 yards for a touchdown to make it 24-10.

ULLMAN'S INJURY FAILS TO STOP ACE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Norm Ullman's batting eye appeared none the worse for wear today but the Detroit Red Wings were seeing red.

Ullman fired two goals — his 17th and 18th of the National Hockey League season — Sunday night as Detroit bombed the Boston Bruins 8-1. Red Wings Coach Sid Abel, however, was still seething over the eye gash his scoring star received the previous night in a collision with Toronto defenseman Carl Brewer.

"It's a disgrace what Brewer gets away with," Abel fumed after the Wings' 3-1 loss to the Maple Leafs at Toronto Saturday.

"Let's say his face ran into my stick," was Brewer's account.

"Blood was drawn and I guess there should have been a five-minute penalty, but the referee said he didn't see it," said Ullman, whose goals total is second only to record-bent Bobby Hull of Chicago.

Hull netted his 32nd of the season — 18 short of the NHL season mark he shares with Maurice Richard and Bernie Geoffrion — but the Montreal Canadiens snapped the Black Hawks' 13-game unbeaten skein 2-1 on Claude Provost's third-period breakaway goal Sunday night.

The Maple Leafs and New York Rangers battled to a 3-3 tie in a game which may have cost injury-plagued Toronto the services of center Dave Keon. Keon suffered a deep skate cut inside his right thigh in the closing minutes and the wound required 10 stitches.

On the next play, Starr suffered his first interception after 251 throws. Jerry Stovall picked it off and ran 30 yards for a touchdown to make it 24-10.

Morton, Schraub Duo To Continue

By DEREK SCHOEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Since they were 10-year-olds, Craig Morton and Jack Schraub have been playing catch with a football.

They did it in grammar school, junior high, high school and finally at University of California, where Morton set Pacific Athletic Conference passing records and Schraub set school marks for catching. Then both signed professional contracts with the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League.

So it should have come as no surprise to the East All-Stars that when Morton faded to pass Saturday with 1 minute, 4 seconds left in the 40th East-West Shrine game and his West team trailing 7-4, he was looking for his long-time teammate.

Morton found Schraub in the East end zone with a six-yard scoring pass that propelled the West to a comeback 11-7 victory before 60,000 fans.

A steady rain, driven by strong winds, fell throughout most of the game. And the field, already sopping from several weeks of rain, resembled a swamp.

Neither team could manage anything approaching a scoring drive through the first two periods. Fumbles were frequent and players often slipped to the ground with no one close to them.

Then Navy quarterback Roger Staubach, the 1963 Heisman Trophy winner, got off a 37-yard pass to Michigan State's Dick Gordon at the East 12.

Gordon and Indiana's Tom Nowatzke lugged the ball to the five, then Staubach splashed to the one where he was knocked unconscious by Washington State All-America Clarence Williams on a driving tackle.

Fred Mazurek of Pittsburgh replaced Staubach and plunged for the score. Nowatzke booted the extra point and the West led 7-0.

Dick Butkus, the two-time Illinois All-America signed by the Chicago Bears, twice centered the ball high over the head of Michigan State's Lou Bobich and out of the end zone on punt attempts. The West was awarded two points each time on the unusual safeties.

Staubach won the William M. Coffman award as the game's outstanding player.

The game raised an estimated $250,000 to aid crippled children in Shriner hospitals.

WHAT, ALREADY?—It may seem early to see pictures of baseball training, but not when a pretty girl is involved. Milwaukee Braves' third base prospect Bill Southworth takes time out to give batting instruction to Lucy Lazarus at West Palm Beach. Southworth is playing in the Florida East Coast Instructional League.

No Court Plans Against Leagues

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer
The National and American Football Leagues, heading for court battles over two college players, plan no disciplinary action against Minnesota and Houston for signing four Oklahoma gridders before their college eligibility expired.

A larger problem confronting the belligerent pro leagues, though, could be whether they plan to co-operate with the schools and each other in eliminating the practices that have aroused the wrath of college officials.

Executive Director Walter Byers of the National Collegiate Athletic Association is hopeful but also realistic about the prospects of co-operation.

"We have urged these people to set their drafts back until after Jan. 1, but they have refused to do it," Byers told The Associated Press Sunday night. "We've met with them before but not with both leagues together as far as I know. To my knowledge we've never had them in the same room together."

Byers was talking about the possibility of a joint meeting at next week's NCAA convention in Chicago. Both leagues have indicated they would have representatives at the meetings.

The NCAA's concern stems from the signing of four Oklahoma players before the Sooners' Gator Bowl clash with Florida State Saturday. The AFL Houston Oilers signed tackle Ralph Neely, who later also signed with Dallas of the National League.

The Minnesota Vikings of the NFL signed fullback Jim Grisham, receiver Lance Rentzel and end Wes Skidgel.

After The AP learned the NFL would take no action against the Vikings, Assistant Commissioner Milt Woodard said the AFL also would not penalize the Oilers.

Under the AFL's by-laws, Woodard explained, the league definitely would approve Houston's contract with Neely.

"We inherited our by-laws and regulations from the NFL," Woodard said. "Both leagues allow the signing of a player once he is drafted in the selection meeting. The NFL states very specifically that a boy can sign after he is drafted although he cannot play with a club that year."

"We have to go along with that concept. If we have different rules, we're in trouble. We've got to compete with these people."

In the opinion of college officials, the leagues also must co

HAMMER OF HATE—The stone is painted to resemble Malaysian Prime Minister Abdul Rahman. The soldiers are Indonesian. And the destruction of the effigy by an air hammer during a parade is a sober reminder of the hate held for Malaysia by Sukarno's Indonesia.

CONCORD WSCS HEARS MUSICAL HOLIDAY PROGRAM

CONCORD — The December meeting of the WSCS of Concord Methodist church was held at the home of Mrs. Carroll McGinnis on Thursday afternoon, December 17. The president, Mrs. Tom Crawford, opened the meeting.

Mrs. Henry Kircher led devotions with Mr. Howard Hess presenting a Christmas program with musical selections by Mrs. Charles Elliott and Mrs. Carroll McGinnis. Mrs. Robert Goodpasture read the minutes of the November meeting and they were approved.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Charles Elliott. The secretary of Spiritual Life Cultivation gave a report on sending cards and notes of encouragement to missionaries and deaconesses.

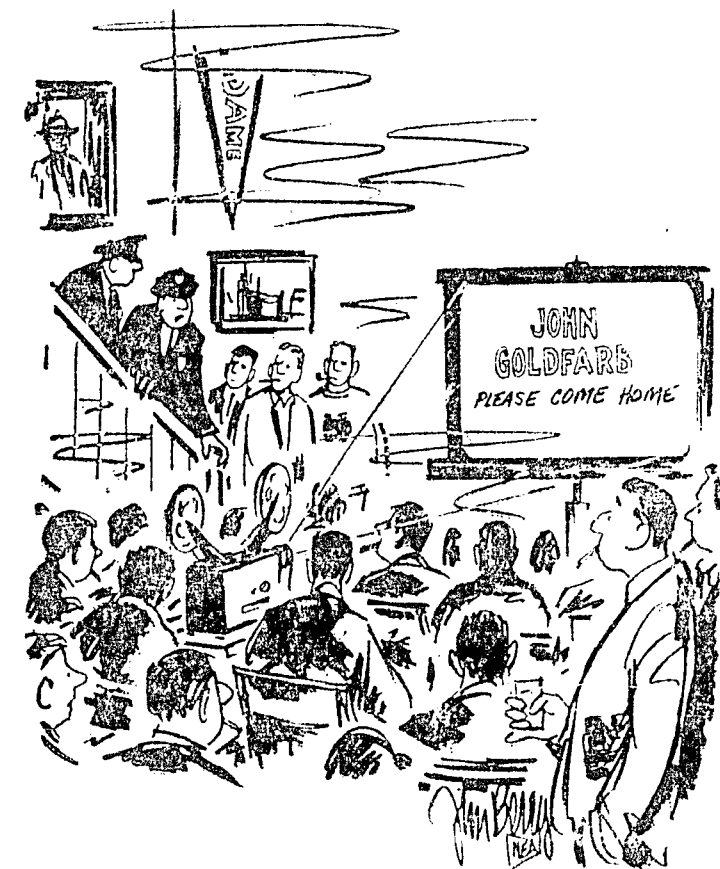

"The Church's Mission Among New Nations" is the theme of the study course to be given at the Concord Methodist church on the Sunday evenings in January. Mrs. Roy Nickel and Mrs. Henry Zulauf will be hostesses at the family night on January 17. Following adjournment of the meeting, refreshments were served by hostesses Mrs. Carroll McGinnis, Mrs. Charles Elliott and Mrs. Herbert Glancy. The next meeting of the society will be at the home of Mrs. Robert Nickel with a carry-in dinner at noon January 21.

For millions of readers,

the shortest distance between the jargon of science and the everyday language of newspapers

is Alton

Blakeslee

Simply stated, Science is the continuing search for nature's truth. Simply stated, nobody tells it better than Alton Blakeslee. To be an Alton Blakeslee, one would have to be current with all the fields of medicine; up on logic and mathematics; at home with chemistry, physics, astronomy, biology, geology -- not to mention psychology, ornithology, entomology, ichthyology, and every other "ology".

As Science and Medical Editor of The Associated Press, Blakeslee regularly attracts the largest newspaper audience in his field. Author of "Your Heart Has Nine Lives" and twice the winner of the coveted Lasker award, Blakeslee has also won most every other science writing award at least once.

Judging by the standards Alton Blakeslee sets for science writers, few indeed can qualify. Yet The Associated Press has five more such men to cover the field of science for you: John Barbour and Frank Carey in the East, Robert Goldenstein in the Midwest, William Harrison and Ralph Dighton in the Far West.

Today when every scientific breakthrough represents important news, you can count on AP specialists like Alton Blakeslee to give you the news simply and clearly in

Governor Proclaims 'Job Corps Week' In Fight On Poverty

Gov. Otto Kerner Monday proclaimed the week of January 4 as Job Corps Week in Illinois.

"The Job Corps is a very important aspect of President Johnson's war on poverty," Gov. Kerner said in issuing the proclamation.

"I urge all communities and individuals in Illinois to help recruit applicants for this vital program and to encourage unemployed and out-of-school youth to take advantage of the opportunity to learn basic skills and acquire a basic education," the governor added.

White Eagle Scout Clan Perfects Dances

Members of the newly organized White Eagle Scout Clan, a branch of Scouting, met Jan. 3rd at the First Baptist church Fellowship Hall. Boys in this group had at least the rank of First Scout in Scouting. Their ages were from 15 through 19 years.

At the ceremony, the following were named: Winter, Life Scout; Doyle, Eagle Scout; Dick Wood, 1st Class Scout; Dave Vorhes, Eagle Scout; Dave Barnes, Star Scout; Bill Hawks, Star Scout and Tiny Blackburn, Eagle Scout. Bill Hawks is the Clan's Chief leader.

Dances were practiced with bells and drums, eagle, torch, devil and imp dances. During the practice a large fourteen foot tepee was patterned and cut out by the boys.

The Dance Team will work with all Scout Troops and Explorer posts in this area and will also serve the Order of the Arrow in presenting authentic dances and stories of the American Indians.

Kent Dawson is acting as the dance instructor and teaching the boys to make their costumes. Kent is an Eagle Scout and holds a Silver Award in Exploring.

Any group, organization or club wishing to have this team perform is asked to kindly contact Mr. Dawson, 208 Southview Drive or Bill Hawks, 121 Prospect street.

STATE CAR DAMAGED SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Occupants of three cars escaped injury Sunday afternoon about 2:45 o'clock in a traffic accident on U.S. 36-54 near the Holiday Inn.

Investigating state police said a westbound funeral procession was led by a car with a red light, and drivers in the eastbound lane apparently became confused and stopped for what they assumed was an emergency vehicle.

Authorities revealed that an eastbound car driven by Stephen D. King, 26, of Chicago stopped in the eastbound lane of traffic.

A second vehicle, behind King, driven by Ralph McLaughlin, 39, of Baylis, owned by the State of Illinois, also stopped.

Following McLaughlin's car was one driven by Theodore E. Gorman, 18, of Wellsville, Mo., who failed to stop and struck the car owned by the state.

The force of the impact drove the state car, licensed to the Secretary of State, into the rear of the vehicle operated by King. No tickets were issued at the scene.

BUFFALO GIRL INJURED IN AUTO MISHAP NEAR BATES

NEW BERLIN — Miss Sharon Osenton, 19, of Buffalo, Ill., suffered possible back injuries in a two car accident near Bates, two miles east of New Berlin on route 36-54 about 3:30 Sunday afternoon.

Miss Bates was a passenger in a westbound auto driven by Ernest Ball, Jr. of Springfield. The accident reportedly occurred when the car swerved into the eastbound lane colliding with an oncoming car driven by George T. Murphy, 55, of Springfield. Ball braked his auto in order to avoid hitting another car in the rear.

Miss Osenton was taken to Memorial hospital in Springfield by McCullough ambulance. En route to the hospital the ambulance was struck in the right rear fender by a 16 year old daughter of the Louis Distelzweigs of Springfield, as she attempted a left turn in the 1800 block of S. MacArthur Boulevard. Miss Distelzweig was driving in the center northbound center lane of traffic as the ambulance was passing the two stopped lanes of traffic. No injuries were reported in the second accident. The ambulance proceeded on to the hospital.

Miss Distelzweig stated later to police that she didn't hear the siren or see the red light. The five other young people in her auto told police the radio had been playing.

Tom Osterholt of Bellwood, Mo. had accompanied Mr. McCullough in the ambulance.

The barrels were provided the Jaycees by National Starch company of Meredosia. The Jaycees purchased the galvanized tops and Herrin Advertising painted the barrels white and did the lettering, "Help Keep Our City Clean" Jacksonville Jaycees.

The barrels were distributed to several locations in the Shopping Center and on the Public Square. The Jaycees have had several such community projects in the past. With many new businesses the need for waste containers is greatly increased.

The Jaycees urge the public to make good use of the trash barrels, disposing waste where they are found and help keep the shopping center and the public square clean and pleasant at all times.

Elections Highlight Beardstown's New Year

BEARDSTOWN — The new year will be the occasion for four regular and at least one special election in Beardstown. There will be township and park board elections on Tuesday, April 6, and on April 20 the city election will be held. The school board election will be April 10.

No date has been set for a special election seeking authority to increase the fire tax in Beardstown.

William H. DeSollar of Beardstown, assistant supervisor or here for many years, and chairman of the county board Arthur Glick of Panther Creek will be among the supervisors whose terms expire in 1965. The terms of George Jurgens of Chandierville, Gilbert Lebkuecher of Bluff Springs, Glen Hillen of Philadelphia, and Fred Dert of Sangamon Valley are also ending. Town clerks, assessors and town auditors will be named. Beardstown town clerk Lucy Weiss and George Perluk, assessor, are expected to seek re-election.

A mayor, city clerk and five aldermen will be elected here on April 20. Mayor Tillitt, City Clerk Esther Schlueter and Aldermen Bob Edwards, Tom Phelps, Ray Walls, John Beatty and Bob Hamel are on the list of those whose terms expire.

First day for filing in the city election is Jan. 25.

Members of the school board whose terms expire are Benson Hager and Dr. A. G. Hyde.

Park board members now completing terms are Glenn Massie and John Orwig.

Approve $10,200 In Federal Funds 'For The Birds'

Official word of a grant of $10,200 to be used for a year's study of migrating birds as hazards to aircraft in the Mississippi Flyway has been received by Dr. Harlow B. Mills, chief of the Illinois Natural History Survey.

The funds, to be administered through the University of Illinois, will come from the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife of the Fish and Wildlife Service, U.S. Department of the Interior.

Frank C. Bellorese, wildlife specialist of the Illinois Natural History Survey stationed in Havana, is named principal investigator of the project under the direction of Dr. Glen C. Sanderson, head of the Survey's Section of Wildlife Research.

The area covered by the study will include the region from North Dakota to eastern Ohio and south to the Gulf of Mexico. Airports within this region of the United States will be rated according to the potential danger to aircraft created by migrating waterfowl.

The investigations will establish, insofar as possible, the limits of flight routes used by ducks, geese and swans in their migration. Altitudes utilized by migrating birds under various weather conditions and the relation of intensity of migration to weather conditions will be studied. The investigators will seek to propose a means of alerting pilots by radar meteorologists of the U.S. Weather Bureau when certain conditions occur in the Mississippi Flyway.

Information from numerous sources will be utilized in the migration study. Most important are the WSR-57 radar stations of the U.S. Weather Bureau located at Minneapolis, Des Moines, Chicago, Detroit, Kansas City, Little Rock, Lake Charles (Louisiana), St. Louis, Evansville and Cincinnati.

Data contributed by the Illinois Natural History Survey will consist of information from its M-33 radar and an APS 42-A founding in 1939, when it was radar at Havana. They can still a part of Old Morgan provide details of altitudinal County.

This is a timely topic, since Beardstown has just recently celebrated its Centennial. Mrs. Schnake was the official historian and wrote and directed the very successful pasteurized presented on September 1st.

People anywhere in the county should find this a subject of interest and are welcome. Reservations to the dinner can be made with the secretary, Miss Ruth Bailey, 1005 Grove Street, telephone 243-2923.

'House Dick' Being Replaced By Credit Cards

The house detective is rapidly becoming extinct.

According to Dan Pavis, general manager of O'Hare Inn, adjoining O'Hare International Airport in Chicago, only about five per cent of hotels and motels throughout the United States continue to employ that old Hollywood favorite, the "house dick." Motels and credit cards are credited with all but eliminating the stock character in most hotels not too many years ago.

"In most cases the house detective has outlived his use. In the past, he kept general order within a hotel, checked up on suspicious guests, and made sure no one left without paying their bill. Even though there is more traveling than ever today and more crime, these problems have considerably lessened over the years," Pavis says.

"Actually, the boom in motels is one reason that there is so little need for the house detective," Pavis points out. "Large lobbies of centrally-located hotels used to be hangouts for pickpockets and various thieves, and the house detective was a means of checking on them and guarding against known criminals. But now, with so many motels spread out across the country, the old-time hotel con games, like stripping rooms, lifting baggage or fixed card games have faded and there are very few incidents that require having a detective running around. The great majority of owners have found that they can run a motel with little or no trouble at all."

As for the problem of guests running out on their bills, Pavis says that he cannot even remember the last time it happened at O'Hare Inn. "I'm sure that everyone who ever ran a hotel or motel had a guest do it. But it's surprising how few times it has happened here," reports Pavis. "Much of our clientele consists of businessmen, and many of them have their bills charged to various credit cards anyway. I believe that people are just more honest these days and to employ a house detective would be a complete waste of time and money."

MUNGALL RITES HELD SATURDAY AT CARROLLTON

CARROLLTON — Funeral services for Mrs. Beatrice Graves Mungall, wife of the late Robert Mungall, were held at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Methodist church with the Rev. Roger Christianson officiating. Organ music was played by Mrs. Donald Langer.

LOCAL HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO MEET

The Morgan County Historical Society will hold its mid-winter dinner meeting at the Dunlap Motor Inn, at 6 o'clock p.m., on Friday, January 22.

Alice Lou Schnake, of Beardstown, will be the featured speaker of the evening, and will present the story of the pioneer Francis Arenz and the development of Arenzville from its M-33 radar and an APS 42-A founding in 1939, when it was radar at Havana. They can still a part of Old Morgan provide details of altitudinal County.

This is a timely topic, since Beardstown has just recently celebrated its Centennial. Mrs. Schnake was the official historian and wrote and directed the very successful pasteurized presented on September 1st.

People anywhere in the county should find this a subject of interest and are welcome. Reservations to the dinner can be made with the secretary, Miss Ruth Bailey, 1005 Grove Street, telephone 243-2923.

Suspect Held For Rushville Hit-Run Death

Carbondale authorities are holding a suspect for questioning in the hit-run death of a Rushville man Saturday evening.

Roy J. Krohe, 66, of Rushville was fatally injured at 5:30 p.m. Saturday on a Rushville street. The auto which hit him did not stop.

Schuyler County Sheriff Wayne Young was scheduled to go to Carbondale Monday to question the suspect.

A coroner's jury Sunday morning ruled that Krohe's death was due to "crushing head and internal injuries suffered as a victim of a hit and run driver," according to Coroner V. M. Corman.

Authorities traced the identity of the suspect being held through a tip received at the sheriff's office in Jacksonville. Identity of the suspect was not announced pending further investigation and filing of formal charges by Schuyler county authorities.
